YOUTH EMPOWERMENT MODEL THROUGH 2ND TIME IMPLEMENTATION OF GBEP INDICATORS IN EGYPT

By
Ahmed Abd El-Ati Ahmed. Prof. Dr.
GBEP Focal Point of EGYPT
1. Why Socioeconomic at first?

1.1 It is a new field, so no one was sure about the economic feasibility.

1.2 Sociologists and economists are related to the local community therefore they have the potentiality to rise up the public awareness to GBEP activities.

1.3 Doesn’t need to input large financial investment to start working.

1.4 Women are the more related to animals and biogas activities, so girls are more potential to deal with the local women due to the community traditions and ethics.
2. How the right candidate was selected?

2.1 The student was selected through certain criteria i.e. potentiality, capability, ambition to be in a new field (focus meetings) – Girls were been more preferable.

2.2 The student had the opportunity to visit the target area, and to express his opinions and ideas and speak to the local people and start a nice friendship with them.

2.3 GBEP sustainable Indicators (GSI) were reviewed to select the most relevant ones from the three pillars.

2.4 The student was registered for Master degree in Faculty of Agric. Ain Shams Univ. so She got the needed capacity building.
Name: Eman Ahmed El-Sayed

• Date of Birth: 18 August 1984

• Education:
  • M.Sc. in Agriculture Sciences, Agriculture Economics, Department of Agricultural Economics, Faculty of Agriculture, Ain Shams University, 2018.
  • B.Sc. of Agriculture Sciences, Agriculture Economics, Department of Agricultural Economics, Faculty of Agriculture, Ain Shams University, 2014, (Very Good).
  • B.Sc. of Commerce and Business Administration, Statistics Division, Faculty of Commerce and Business Administration, Helwan University, 2006, (Good).
3. How the student was able to become a young leadership?

After the M.Sc. She become:

1. Well trained and well educated to overcome the information gap.
2. Well linked to many key persons in the region.
3. Built a strong ties and friendship relations with the local community, therefore was able give advises with strong trust.
4. Consequently the student herself turned to be a model for other young people particularly women and pupil girls.
5. In Desert Research Center “DRC” the student had prompted her career and was known as the first M.Sc. Thesis on “GSI” and was registered for Ph.D. This year.
Thank You!!!